

Nomadic food hunting tribes paintings mammoths gathering elephants fire bison
 venus stone fishing

PALAEOLITHIC CAMPSITE

The first human being lived from _____, _____ and _____ wild fruits. They hunted _____, _____, and _____. They were _____ because they didn't live in the same place and moved constantly. They were organized in small _____. They lived outdoors, in caves or in wood huts. Our ancestors decorated the caves with _____ about hunting scenes. They also made tiny sculptures of women called _____. Men and women made tools and objects of carved _____ and bones to hunt and cut animal's skins and meat. The discovery of _____ was extremely important because they used it to heat their caves, cook _____ and drive wild animals away.

- Ask the following questions with your partner :

What are the characteristics that make these images scenes from the Palaeolithic ?

How did humans spend their time during the Palaeolithic Age ?

Describe the activities and tools they used. Describe the clothes they wore, food

How did they make fire? How did people make their stone tools? Why fire is one of the most important discoveries in the history of humanity ?

Neolithic Age / New Stone Age

wheel sails cultivate harvest cattle villages wool agriculture pottery fertile sedentary

NEOLITHIC

About ten thousand years ago human beings learned how to _____ plants and domesticate animals : it was the beginning of _____ and _____ farming. For this reason humans lived next to _____ lands. They built _____ to live and became _____. The villages were generally located next to rivers to be able to supply water to agriculture and the town. They started to polished stone tools such as hoes, sickles to collect the _____. To grind the grain they used hand mills. They invented two new innovations technics : textile and _____. The textiles were made using _____ from animals. The pottery was made by hand and baked in a kiln. At the end of the Neolithic , humans invented the _____ which was used for agricultural activity and as an potter’s wheel.

- Ask the following questions with your partner :

What are the characteristics that make these images scenes from the Neolithic?

Describe the activities and tools they used. Describe the clothes they wore, food

ACTIVITY :

Now look at the images and try to remember what you have learned. In pairs label and identify the pictures about how people lived in the Prehistory.

How was the Neolithic way of life different from the Palaeolithic way of life ?

Tell your partner what you remember using the following expressions :

Language support :

In the Palaeolithic time they used stone tools for hunting while in the Neolithic time ; In the Palaeolithic people lived from/ In the Neolithic people lived fromthey ate cereal because they were farmers ; Storehouses were places when people stored food/ they lived in small villages near rivers